Billings Will Conch North Carolina College During Coming Season.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WAKE FOREST, N. C., September 9. -The 1916 football campaign was inaugurated at Wake Forest on September 5, under the supervision of Head Coach Billings. The recent announcement of the selection of "Mig" Billings as conch to succeed Dr. Wilbur C. Smith is very gratifying to the supporters and followers of the gridron team at the Baptist institution.

The new coach has been prominently identified with athletics at Wake Forest ever since his entrance to the college six years ago. In addition to being a star performer on both the basketball and baseball teams, captaining each team, he made his letter on the football team his freshman year, and for the three succeeding years he directed every play of the team from quarter back, proving one of the best field generals the Baptists CHASE have ever had. Billings further showed his versatility by coaching the baseball team the past spring. In spite of a marked scarcity of material, he whipped a team into shape that finished the season well above the .500 mark. Conch Billings arrived on the season which is mark. Coach Billings arrived on the mark. Coach Billings arrived on the hill late Friday afternoon, and will be on hand to greet the candidates when they report Tuesday afternoon.

C. W. Parker, of Woodland, who will captain the team this season, is expected to arrive on Monday. He is the nucleus around which the coach will have to build his back field, for the team is hard hit by the loss of several of last year's half backs, and its quarter back, Billings. While not a player of the spectacular type, Parker is a consistent ground gainer, one of the most tircless workers on the team, and he will make the Baptists an admirable leader. He is twenty years old, tips the scales at 216, and has covered 100 yards in ten seconds flat. He was picked as All-State full back on the mythical North Carolina eleven last fall.

The schedule calls for the first game.

Manager Carlyle is busy working on the schedule, and announces that it will be ready for publication within the next week. Every North Carolina eleven, with one exception, is included on the schedule. Davidson is the only State eleven that is not on the schedule, but the manager is now writing in an effort to secure a game with the Preshyterians, either in Raleigh or Charlotte. The most noticeable change this season is the cancellation of the annual Wake Forest-Davidson game in Charlotte. Davidson is meeting Clemson in Charlotte on that date, while Wake Forest is playing Mercer in Greensboro. In addition to games with three leading State teams, representative college elevens of Virginia, South Carolina and Georgia will be met by Wake Forest during the approaching season.

ARMY OFFICERS SHOWN ABILITY OF SAXON "SIX" took a Saxon to demonstrate to Uncle Sam's engineers that a six-cylinder motor car is fit for the gruelling service of Pershing's expedition

Since the boys in khaki crossed the Rio Grande every motor truck supply train has been piloted by a four-cylinder motor car. The quartermaster's department refused to believe that a six-cylinder could stand the hard-ships of the mountain trails.

ships of the mountain trails.

Finally, it was decided to give the "six" a trial, and a Saxon motor car dealer was asked to furnish a car at his own risk as pilot for the supply train.

The Saxon "Six" was sent as pilot from Columbus, Texas, to Ojo Frederico, a distance of sixty-two and one-half miles. The mud was so deep on this road that at one point it took the train nearly all day to go a distance this road that at one point it took the train nearly all day to go a distance of seven miles. The Saxon was driven with the mud pans dragging. The bottom of the erankcase was polished bright from the rubbing of the mud. Even with this condition, there was absolutely no trouble encountered with the car, and, arriving at its destination, it was washed and sent to the machine shop for inspection, and the machine shop for inspection, and the citizen inspector made the report that the car was mechanically perfect and a sale was made on the spot.

The success with which this Saxon "Six" survived this gruelling test has led the United States government to place eight six-cylinder Saxons on trial in the last week and every constitution. place eight six-cylinder Saxons on trial in the last week, and every one of them is making good. The government demands an extended trial of every car before making its purchase. They operate on the theory that no car is worth having whose manufacturer is not willing to back its qualities against the toughest conditions which can be imposed on it.

Yes, football's here. The weather isn't exactly suitable to the great American college sport, but the 1916 season is upon us. It peeped over the horizon the other day with the circulation of the annual guide and immediately did the fans begin to peruse the contents thereof.

From now until the opening game acres of dope will be read and heard concerning the chances of various major varsity elevens for sectional cham-pionships. The shrill voice of the quar-ter back will be audible in less than a fortnight in some football camps.

The big nine squads will hold their first organized practice September 29, which falls on a Wednesday. But the hundreds of candidates for the teams are not waiting until then to get in shape for the campaign.

To-day the majority of them are training by strenuous work at summer resorts. Some of the less wealthy are incarcerated in offices earning money, but they've all got their minds focused on that day when the coach first orbs them in full regalia.

With the rule book available, about the first thing the player will do is

JACOBSON LEADS SOUTHERN

ATLANTA, GA., September 9.—Outfielder Jacobson, of Little Rock, topped the Southern Association batters for the 1916 season, which closed today, according to figures compiled here. Failing to get a hit out of three times at bat to-day, the Little Rock player, nevertheless finished with a percentage of .335, a point ahead of Thrasher, of Atlanta, who has not played for several weeks. Yerkes, who got one hit out of five times up today, lost 2 points, but stayed in third place, with a percentage of .332. The standing of the three leaders for the season are: Club Members Return From Lynch-burg and Report Great Time in Hill City.
